

Midwest Alarm attends 2008 Endura Update Training

March, 2008

Midwest Alarm representatives Tyler Solma and Dean Luethje recently attended a two-day training event at Pelco International headquarters. The event, held in the Pelco Global Training Center, Clovis, California was designed to bring attendees current with Endura changes and updates for 2008.

This event brought Endura integrators from the US, Costa Rica, Mexico, New Zealand, Qatar, Austria, the Philippines and other locations throughout the world together with Pelco technical trainers and also with department heads from Training, Marketing, Business Development and Digital Product Development. A visit from Dean Meyer, president and CEO of Pelco helped to reinforce Pelco's commitment to the Endura product line.